

LEARNING THE LESSONS

Improving policing policy and practice

ISSUE 46

FRONTLINE POLICING

IOPC Independent Office for Police Conduct

- Ten thought-provoking IOPC case studies
- NPCC leads on the Neighbourhood Policing Guarantee and strengthening public trust and confidence in policing
- Reflections about the positive impact of body-worn video following a fatal police pursuit
- Hampshire Police Federation and Oscar Kilo discuss improving officer wellbeing
- Research on developing a 'Minimum Policing Standard'
- Learn how community scrutiny is helping to improve policing in Devon and Cornwall
- College of Policing and Metropolitan Police reflect on reforming training for frontline officers
- Understanding adultification, plus a new approach to policing neurodiversity
- Reframing the police response to retail crime

Download a copy and find out more from www.policeconduct.gov.uk/our-work/learning/learning-the-lessons

The Learning the Lessons magazine is published by the IOPC. It is developed in collaboration with partners in policing.