Other deaths following police contact

Definition:

This includes deaths that follow contact with the police, either directly or indirectly, that did not involve arrest or detention under the Mental Health Act 1983 and were subject to an independent investigation. An independent investigation is determined by the IOPC for the most serious incidents that cause the greatest level of public concern, have the greatest potential to impact on communities or have serious implications for the reputation of the police service. The criteria to include only deaths subject to an independent investigation have been applied since 2010/11 to improve consistency in the reporting of these deaths.

For example:

- Deaths that occur after the police are called to attend a domestic incident that results in a fatality.
- Deaths that occur after the police have been contacted following concerns about a person's welfare and there is concern about the nature of the police response.
- Deaths that occur where the police are called to assist medical staff to restrain individuals who are not under arrest.

* Change in definition in 2010/11 to include only cases subject to an independent investigation.

^ This includes UKBF, UKIE and UKVI.

~ The Metropolitan Police are also under investigation for this incident.

Expansion of IOPC investigative resource and capacity to carry out more independent investigations into serious and sensitive matters - this has a direct impact on the number of 'other contact deaths' that are reported.

~ This table presents the most up-to-date set of figures; any updates to previously published data are indicated.

* Change in definition in 2010/11 to include only cases subject to an independent investigation.

This includes UKBF, UKIE and UKVI.

^ The Metropolitan Police are also under investigation for this fatality.

Expansion of IOPC investigative resource and capacity to carry out more independent investigations into serious and sensitive matters - this has a direct impact on the number of 'other contact deaths' that are reported.
